The bytes are shellcode. You should disasm and figure out how to complete it so that it reads the flag file and writes it to stdout
- G webpentest < 1 minute ago
In the first challenge you just need to figure out the syscall numbers. The second one I didn't solve in time, but it is very similar
- G Gapipro < 1 minute ago
waw, what gives it away that its a shellcode?

Hey

Sorry for bothering you but I guess there is a bug in the Pokemon web challenge.

On opening the website directly found the flag, which also works, not sure if it was intended that way.
